The Routledge Companion to Accounting Education Jun 25 2019 Many enquiries into the state of accounting education/training, undertaken in several countries over the past 40 years, have warned that it must change if it is to be made more relevant to students, to the accounting profession, and to stakeholders in the wider community. This book's overriding aim is to provide a comprehensive and authoritative source of reference which defines the domain of accounting education/training, and which provides a critical overview of the state of this domain (including emerging and cutting edge issues) as a foundation for facilitating improved accounting education/training scholarship and research in order to enhance the educational base of accounting practice. The Routledge Companion to Accounting Education highlights the key drivers of change - whether in the field of practice on the one hand (e.g. increased regulation, globalisation, risk, and complexity), or from developments in the academy on the other (e.g. pressures to embed technology within the classroom, or to meet accreditation criteria) on the other. Thirty chapters, written by leading scholars from around the world, are grouped into seven themed sections which focus on different facets of their respective themes - including student, curriculum, pedagogic, and assessment considerations.

It is primarily designed for undergraduate and postgraduate courses in comparative and international aspects of financial reporting. A proper understanding requires broad overviews (as in Part I), but these must be supported by detailed information on real countries and companies (as in Parts II to IV) and across-the-board comparisons of major topics (as in Parts V and VI). This book was first published in 1981. Until this present edition (the fourteenth), the book was jointly written by Christopher Nobes and Robert Parker. However, Bob Parker died shortly after the thirteen edition was published in 2016. This edition is dedicated to his memory; see obituaries in the 2016 volumes of Accounting and Business Research and Accounting History. Bob's last publication was a review of the development of the contents of this book (and therefore of the world of international accounting) over its thirteen editions from 1981. Access Free oldredlist.iucnredlist.org on December 4, 2022 Free Download Pdf
