Fragility Fracture Nursing Aug 26 2019 This open access book aims to provide a comprehensive but practical overview of the knowledge required for the assessment and management of the older adult with or at risk of fragility fracture. It considers this from the perspectives of all of the settings in which this group of patients receive nursing care. Globally, a fragility fracture is estimated to occur every 3 seconds. This amounts to 25 000 fractures per day or 9 million per year. The financial costs are reported to be: 32 billion EUR per year in Europe and 20 billion USD in the United States. As the population of China ages, the cost of hip fracture care there is likely to reach 1.25 billion USD by 2020 and 265 billion by 2050 (International Osteoporosis Foundation 2016). Consequently, the need for nursing for patients with fragility fracture across the world is immense. Fragility fracture is one of the foremost challenges for health care providers, and the impact of each one of those expected 9 million hip fractures is significant pain, disability, reduced quality of life, loss of independence and decreased life expectancy. There is a need for coordinated, multi-disciplinary models of care for secondary fracture prevention based on the increasing evidence that such models make a difference. There is also a need to promote and facilitate high quality, evidence-based effective care to those who suffer a fragility fracture with a focus on the best outcomes for recovery, rehabilitation and secondary prevention of further fracture. The care community has to understand better the experience of fragility fracture from the perspective of the patient so that direct improvements in care can be based on the perspectives of the users. This book supports these needs by providing a comprehensive approach to nursing practice in fragility fracture care.

The Future of Nursing Nov 29 2019 The Future of Nursing explores how nurses' roles, responsibilities, and education should change significantly to meet the increased demand for care that will be created by health care reform and to advance improvements in America's increasingly complex health system. At more than 3 million in number, nurses make up the single largest segment of the health care work force. They also spend the greatest amount of time in delivering patient care as a profession. Nurses therefore have valuable insights and unique abilities to contribute as partners with other health care professionals in improving the quality and safety of care as envisioned in the Affordable Care Act (ACA) enacted this year. Nurses should be fully engaged with other health professionals and assume leadership roles in redesigning care in the United States. To ensure its members are well-prepared, the profession should institute residency training for nurses, increase the percentage of nurses who attain a bachelor's degree to 80 percent by 2020, and double the number who pursue doctorates. Furthermore, regulatory and institutional obstacles -- including limits on nurses' scope of practice -- should be removed so that the health system can reap the full benefit of nurses' training, skills, and knowledge in patient care. In this book, the Institute of Medicine makes recommendations for an action-oriented blueprint for the future of nursing.

Nursing 101 Apr 14 2021 Have you dreamed of becoming a Nurse for as long as you can remember? Do you think you have a pretty good idea of all that a career in Nursing entails? Or have you just graduated from Nursing School and now find it's nothing as you expected? Worse yet, did your classes not prepare you for the magnitude of responsibility you now have? Were you not given clear strategies on how to manage your patients and the extensive workload required during a 12 hour shift? Or, have you been a Nurse for some time, but now feel tired, frustrated, and no longer sure this is the career for you? Do you struggle to get through your shift, going home with fear and worry you missed something in the care of your patients, or perhaps don't feel you gave them your best due to being overwhelmed by multiple conflicting priorities? For some of us, the realities of being a Nurse seldom match either our imagination or our expectations, and all too often our education falls short in providing us with adequate preparation-given its limitations in clinical time, intensity, scope, and supervision. Furthermore, traditional Nursing Theory is often a sea of confusing rhetoric which only minimally translates to any sort of practical application. And, suffice it to say, when you're a New Grad, you need survival skills-plain and simple. You've been taught the Science, in terms of Anatomy and Physiology; you've read about the procedures, and may have even performed a few of them once or twice; but, how do you put it altogether when caring for 5 or 6 or 7 patients, especially after a typically minimal orientation, given the financial constraints in today's world of healthcare, where productivity is everything. Nursing 101 offers the missing link-realistic, time-tested, old-fashioned advice on exactly "How to be a Nurse"-essentially, the much-needed lessons on blending Art with Science. Likewise, it speaks to what it truly means to be a Registered Nurse, in terms of core values, role responsibility, professional accountability, and the achievement of clinical excellence. Finally, it also points out some of the harsh realities of healthcare, and Nursing's place in the grand scheme of things, in terms of effecting positive change. Use it as a primer for Nursing, a basic "how to," as it is loaded with countless practical techniques, simple instructions, and basic knowledge which you rarely get all in one place in Nursing School, and may not assimilate easily on your own, nor from your peers and coworkers. This is the fast track to success. Use it and love what you do!

A Road to Excellence Oct 21 2021 A Road to Excellence encapsulates the establishment of a school nursing at the University Hospital of the West Indies and the progression of the basic nursing education programme from an apprenticeship system based on the British model to a partial student status system. The quality of the leadership throughout the period has been highlighted. The authors chronicle the influence of the Jamaica General Trained Nurses Association/Nurses Association of Jamaica, the regulating role of the Nursing Council, and show how support from regional and international agencies contributed to changes in the administration and integrity of the curriculum. The flexibility of the teaching staff in adapting to current educational technologies and the response of the students as evidenced by their performance in the registration examinations are presented. Aspects of operations and functioning integral to the maintenance of standards in a school are also covered.
