The More I Learn about Women Jun 29 2022 While photographer Lisa Kereszi (born 1973) was researching for her previous book, "Joe's Junk Yard," her father, Joe Jr., gave her a worn and tattered old photo album that he had compiled in the 1970s and 80s. Inside were 4 x 6-inch color photographs taken by Joe Jr. of biker babes in bars, at bike rallies and drag races, in various states of undress. As Kereszi says, "It's really a very odd group of images for a daughter to find--pics of biker babes showing off their tattoos, their boyfriends' bikes and hot rods, and, well, breasts." Kereszi appropriated the photographs, and re-cropped them for this volume. "The edit goes through various different types of pictures," she notes, "from the expected, posed shots, to the 'money shots,' then on to some very interesting and beautiful images of women unawares."

15 Years of The Mountain School of Arts (Teacher's Edition) Jan 25 2022 The work on this book started in March 2020 with an archive of pictures acquired from previous Mountain School of Arts students, staff and faculty. The collection consists of around 2000 images taken over the last 15 years. Most of the photographs were shot with older digital or phone cameras with the addition of some analog footnotes. We consider the photographs to be documents of the many different shapes, forms and people that have taken part in the Mountain School of Arts program since its inception in 2005.
