Faith Unleashed Aug 07 2020 It doesn't matter if you've been a Christian for a short time, a long time, if you're just starting your journey, or if you don't quite believe yet-maybe you have questions about faith and God and how it all fits together in the grand scheme of life. Whatever your spiritual temperature, this book is for you! You're going to learn about the never ending love of God, probe into God's infallible Word, and ask questions that will take you deeper in your faith walk. And in the midst of exploring, your faith will be activated in a mighty way as you embark on an inspirational journey that will release in you a deep belief in what God is able to do and WILL do in your life. Faith allows us to believe that the invisible God can accomplish the physically impossible. Faith dwells on a spiritual plane, not a physical or scientific one and one thing is for sure: there will never be any incongruity between godly faith and true science. The faith I talk about in this book is a greater faith. It is a spiritual inheritance that brings with it a spiritual encounter with God because God wants us to believe that as we work for Him, as we trust in Him, and as we do the will of God, all things will work together for our good. Life is all about you trusting God and believing Him to do His will and in doing His will you know that all these things, including basic necessities like food and shelter, are going to be added to you. Having "all these things" means that through Jesus Christ, we now have access to all we need. I believe there is something very significant for you in these pages, and as I said, the truth of Scripture stands, so whatever your level of faith, this book will shift your thoughts, activate your faith, and then elevate your faith! Hold onto your seat, take a deep breath, and let out a holler to God because your faith is going on a journey!

The Pied Piper of Tucson Sep 19 2021 It was Life and Time magazines that turned a local story from Tucson, Arizona, into a national abomination. Reporters came from all over, to be sure, but on March 4, 1966, Life printed an ominous photo of the desert landscape where three girls had disappeared and the story of Charles Howard Schmid, Jr., or "Smitty," became international news. He had been arrested four months earlier on November 11, just after marrying a fifteen-year-old girl whom he'd met on a blind date. The article was published even before the juries in two separate trials had decided his fate. Dubbed "The Pied Piper of Tucson," for his ability to get girls to fall for him, he stood five feet, four inches tall, but added three more inches by padding his stack-heeled cowboy boots with rags and tin cans. He also dyed his reddish-brown hair black, used pancake make-up, whitened his lips, and applied a fake mole to his left cheek-a "beauty" mark. Arrogant and narcissistic, he came from a wealthy family, so he used the niceties he could buy to impress young high school girls. He adopted the droopy-eyed look associated with Elvis, his idol, and acquired a rock musician's mystique. His tiny house on his parents' property was the scene of many parties. Tucson society was not merely shaken by the murders of three of their young women but by what the details of those murders revealed about its adolescent population-sex clubs, drinking parties, blackmail, cover-ups for murder, and even connections with the crime underworld. Parents suddenly became more strict, more aware now that their kids weren't safe and maybe weren't even behaving properly. When kids looked to someone like Charles Schmid for answers, there was something terribly wrong.

Faith Versus Fear - Peace In a Pandemic Oct 09 2020 Look around you - how have things changed? One year ago, most of us could have never guessed how different our lives would become. Pandemics were the things you only heard about from history books or they happened in less privileged countries, those with minimal health care and hard living conditions. The month of March 2020 introduced us to new phrases. 'Safer at home', 'Essential workers', 'Social distancing', 'Flattening the curve', and 'Herd immunity', suddenly became topics of discussion. Schools have closed, jobs have been lost, businesses have gone bankrupt. People have died. The ravages of Covid 19 have touched everyone. The difficulties during the world-wide spread of the Coronavirus are unprecedented. The health care system is overwhelmed, medical personnel are physically exhausted and emotionally drained. Authority has been challenged, and some individuals have turned to violence as their fear of losing control has grown. Look around you - it is not pretty. Yet, babies have been born, weddings have taken place, students have graduated, and the internet has provided a way for workers and schools to carry on, albeit a bit differently than before this pandemic. The world has kept turning, the sun and moon have continued as scheduled. How are you doing? Are you living in fear of what might happen or how you might be affected? Has the sorrow of death engulfed you in grief? Are the 'what ifs' causing you to live in anxiety? There is an answer. It is not a religion nor is it a building. His name is God. Faith placed in the things of this world has been uprooted, shaken like a fierce storm. Perhaps it is time to place your trust on solid ground. Your fears will be replaced with peace in God's perfect plan.
