Pioneering Women's Education Apr 03 2020 Although much less well known than some other nineteenth century female campaigners, such as Florence Nightingale or Emmeline Pankhurst, Dorothea Beale is nonetheless deserving of wide recognition for her pioneering, and at times radical, ideas. Dorothea's work for the education of girls made just as significant an impact on the liberation of women as did that of Florence Nightingale in ennobling the nursing profession or Emmeline Pankhurst in drawing attention to women's political inferiority. Although very much a woman of her times, through her work as Principal of the Cheltenham Ladies' College, her writings, her speeches and her widespread involvement in societies promoting women's interests, Dorothea helped to show what women were capable of, providing them with greater confidence and self-belief. Drawing on a wide range of original sources, this book traces Dorothea's life and work. It considers the formative influences of her youth, her response to the disappointments of her early career and examines how her own educational ideas evolved, were put into practice and came to influence schools and colleges both at home and abroad. As well as an in-depth analysis of her pioneering work in Cheltenham, her many other interests, connections and involvements, including her contribution to the suffrage campaign are also explored. However this book is not just a story of one woman's achievements, great though they were. There is an attempt to understand Dorothea as a person with reflections on her character and personal life throughout and the book ends with an appraisal of the many contradictions to be found in this intriguing 'conservative reformer'. Dorothea Beale was a woman whose quiet and unassuming manner hid a strong sense of vocation, a fierce determination and an undoubted practical ability to achieve her ends. Dorothea would have been amazed at the changes that occurred in the position of women in the century after her death in 1906, and yet it was in no small measure thanks to her work that this breakthrough in female opportunities occurred.

Dark Agent Dec 12 2020 Based on a tip from CIA agent Bradley Upton, the Shadow Squadron rushes to Yemen in an attempt to apprehend an elusive Iraqi explosives expert, but when the mission goes wrong Ryan Cross finds himself alone, face to face with the Iraqi--and confronting the truth about the CIA agent.

Love After Marriage: Mr. Lancaster's Hidden Wife May 29 2022 Ever since Yvonne Frey married Henry Lancaster, she alone stayed in an empty house for three years. Just when she was on the verge of giving up, this man suddenly came back and said that he wanted to live together with her!"Mr. Lancaster... Should I prepare a guest room for you?" "What? So I'm only a guest to you?!" Henry gritted his teeth. Now, who was the dismissive one here?

The Road to Lancaster Manor Sep 28 2019 A young man sets out to hitchhike Europe, meets interesting people and has extraordinary experiences. His travels are abruptly halted and his future is significantly altered when he is left for dead after coming to the rescue of an older lady and gentlemen. Now, as the coffins are being lowered into the ground in a centuries-old cemetery in England, Richard Lion begins to recall fragments of memories, glimpses in his mind of how he fought to escape death, his awakening and how in a remarkable chain of events, he became the heir to a title and a fortune and had to fight and survive in order to keep them.

111 Places in Lancaster and Morecambe That You Shouldn't Miss Jan 13 2021 * The ultimate insider's guide to Lancaster and Morecambe* Features interesting and unusual places not found in traditional travel guides* Part of the international 111 Places/111 Shops series with over 650 titles and 3.8 million copies in print worldwide* Appeals to both the local market (more than 188,000 people call Lancaster and Morecambe home) and the tourist market (more than 14 million people visit Lancaster and Morecambe every year!)* Fully illustrated with 111 full-page color photographs Lancaster and Morecambe are like chalk and Lancashire cheese. So near, yet so far apart in what they offer. Morecambe, the traditional seaside resort, its 'Bring me Sunshine' favorite son Eric Morecambe and Victoria Wood's 'two soups' cafe. Plus, its awesome 1930's Art Deco Midland Hotel, haunt of Coco Chanel and Laurence Olivier. Lancaster, with its Roman remains, its impregnable 'John o' Gaunt' castle and characterful Georgian buildings, built in part from slave-trade profits. Notorious Lancaster, known as the 'Hanging Town' for its use of the noose, with its fearsome castle cells that held Quaker maker George Fox. Leave the crowds behind and embrace the true character of this story-filled region, one special place at a time.

Hush, Hush, Sweet Justice Apr 27 2022 Her home and family desecrated by a fire, Justice Peters is whisked away to the House of Lancaster, run by a woman named Sarah and her lover, Samson, who forces the residents to live a life of Old Testament law. Her only possession from her past is an old photograph of the father who had abandoned her before she was born. As the agonizing days turn into months, Justice's memories begin to fade. It is only the visits from an unearthly stranger who makes each day at the House of Lancaster easier to bear, but still burning within her is her desire to one day escape from this vicious cult, seek out her father and destroy him. It is not until she finds her father when she realizes that sometimes one has to live a lie in order to recognize the truth.
