Nissan GT-R Feb 21 2022 Since its introduction, the Skyline GT-R has been the undeniable king of the tuner CAR world. This book explains why. Along with an overview of Skylines since their debut in 1957, Author Alex Gorodji gives in-depth reviews of the last four generations of GT-Rs, including the new-for-2008 V35 – the first iteration of the car to be sold in the U.S. Paying special attention to technical aspects such as the all-wheel steering and drive systems, the chassis, and the legendary six-cylinder twin-turbocharged engine, his work explains the GT-R to those who already admire the car, and to those who wonder what the excitement is all about.

Evaluation and Decision Models Jun 13 2021 The purpose of Evaluation and Decision Models: A Critical Perspective is to provide a critical thinking framework for all individuals utilizing decision and evaluation models, whether it be for research or applications. It is axiomatic that evaluation and decision models suffer some limitations. There are situations where a decision model will not perform to expectations. This book argues that there is no best decision or evaluation model, but that decision-makers must understand the principles of formal evaluation and decision models and apply them critically. Hence, the book seeks to deepen our understanding of evaluation and decision models and encourage users of these models to think more analytically about them. The authors work in six different European universities. Their backgrounds are varied: mathematics, economics, engineering, law, and geology, and they teach in engineering, business, mathematics, computer science, and psychology in their universities. As a group, the authors have particular expertise in a variety of decision models that include preference modelling, fuzzy logic, aggregation techniques, social choice theory, artificial intelligence, problem structuring, measurement theory, operations research, and multiple criteria decision support. In addition to their decision analysis research, all the authors have been involved in a variety of high-impact applications which include software evaluation, location of a nuclear repository, the rehabilitation of a sewer network, and the location of high-voltage lines. It is this variety within the authorship that unifies this book into a systematic examination of how best formal decision models can be used. The monograph is an excellent tool for researchers of decision analysis and decision-makers.

El hombre sin acción Sep 04 2020 Cristóbal Block es un joven escritor que se siente fracasado; ha pensado incluso en el suicidio. Ramón Moraldo, por su parte, ha perdido trágicamente a su hija Irina y se encuentra de improviso con el diario de vida de Block. Al leerlo, concluye que existe una extraña relación entre ambos jóvenes. Buscando atar cabos, se comunica con Carmen, la madre de Cristóbal. Pero lo esencial de esta novela es su composición, cómo su autor va hilando y presentando las situaciones a través de los largos parlamentos de Carmen y el diario del malogrado Cristóbal: la diversidad de voces, un consciente fragmentarismo, un montaje muy bien realizado, una prosa fluida, en fin, todo confluye en una historia bien narrada.
