Ethical and Social Issues in Professional Education Dec 21 2021 This book reflects and extends the great debates that schools, colleges, and universities are having in response to the profound moral conflicts and personal questions facing professionals today: What should we teach our students? What values should we communicate and nurture? What should be the role of the traditional liberal arts in professional education? How should schools and colleges respond to the demands of women and minorities for a more inclusive curriculum? The authors explore ongoing theoretical and practical considerations of graduate professional education through the ethical and social issues facing professionals in public service. Administrators, teachers, counselors, nurses, or lawyers are recognizing that they face similar questions about their personal and professional lives: Is it possible to sustain a set of fully human values as a practicing professional? As a member of a public organization, how does one deal with dilemmas involving conflicting priorities and ambiguous goals? The authors responses to these questions are presented as themes, describing connections between curriculum and pedagogy. They have designed an approach to ethical and social questions respectful of the contributions of adult learners and the need to provide diverse perspectives.

A Real-time Optical Spectrum Analyzer Jan 28 2020 This paper describes a real-time optical analyzer which has the ability to perform spectral as well as cepstral analysis. It can serve either as a fine or gross resolution cepstrum analysis device. This resolution depends upon the optical aperture and the spatial frequencies recorded on a magnetic tape loop. In addition, because the optical system also serves as a frequency analyzer, it can be considered as a general-purpose real-time frequency analyzer which can be utilized with a number of vocoding techniques. These techniques include the standard channel vocoder, voice excited vocoder, and the formant tracking vocoder.
