Moonshine Memories Feb 29 2020 For 25 years, Tom Allison was a revenuer, a federal agent charged with enforcement of the nation's laws on taxation of liquor. His territory was the hills, hollows and deep woods of Alabama, and his quarry was the illegal whiskey makers. Allison remembers the stake-outs in the brush, the undercover assignments, the long waits to catch the distillery operators red-handed, and, of course, the chases as he and his fellow treasury agents ran down fleeing moonshiners in the dark of night. While Allison is a natural story-teller, the characters who populate this history are too strange to be fiction. Perhaps the only thing more striking than the ignorance of many of the moonshiners is the craftiness of some others.

Rolicking City Police May 26 2022 This is one insane and funny ride through Northern Manitoba. - Rolicking City Citizen Hysterically funny, off beat and just a dn good time! - Northern Copper Review Staff Sergeant Jeans says it with humor, flair and remarkable style! - CNIT Radio Staff Sergeant Earl Jeans in command of the Rolicking City Police (RCP) remains tormented by senior police management, local politicians and departmental issues. Pills and whiskey wont solve everything but Earl is willing to give them a try. Detective Kate OMalley complements Earls rough demeanor every step of the way. Kate is as quick with a head shot to the psyche as Earl is with a shot to the groin. In October 2009, everything stable in the mining community of Rolicking City, Manitoba changed in a matter of weeks. The murder of a local drug dealer 8 Ball is tied into the greater specter of organized crime. A sordid maze has weaved itself within the Rolicking street people. Earl and Kate are spun sideways into yet another investigation. The RCP is quickly reined in by the District Office. Saluting by the flag of political correctness stands Superintendent Thompson. Oddly, Thompsons management insight is seemingly derived from the mystical powers of his corporate icon. Are Earl and Kate truly on the right path or are they instead, caught up in their own deadly game? Drugs, guns or twisted confidencemaybe the answer lies quietly beneath the crime?

In Angels' Arms Feb 08 2021 D. J. O'Connor had spent most of his adult life trying to find two Union Army officers that his family had assigned to have been from the ranks of the heavenly host because of help that they had provided to members of the family during the Civil War. Both men had done God's work on earth to benefit not only his family but the whole idea of the greater good. Following a clue, DJ went to a home in Biscay, Colorado, where he was welcomed by the family of not only Second Lieutenant Devon W. Labatte, the man he had been told he would find there but the late Major Dr. Earl Townsend, the other officer he had been looking for. The family invited DJ to sit with them to watch over Devon while he slept because they knew that his time was near. As he was seeing the man that he had so much appreciation, DJ's curiosity was racing. Surveying the room, DJ saw the evidence of a life well spent with tokens of travel and remembrances of special people and events. One special event was remembered in a very large painting with both men's families along with three other families, and on a small table near the bed was the photograph that the painter had used as a guide. DJ asked about the painting and how all the people in it had become intertwined into one family. For the rest of the day, DJ listened intently to the story of how these two men who had been raised in different parts of the country and with very different financial backgrounds had overcome many obstacles, lived through the war, become friends, fought inner demons, and raised their families together, all the time treating everyone with respect and giving assistance to others as second nature.

The Flood: A Kidnapping Psychological Crime Thriller Jan 10 2021 Tightly plotted and deliriously wicked, this intense and suspenseful nail-biter will leave you breathless. Fans of Blake Pierce and Carolyn Kepnes will love The Flood. Seven people. A locked storm shelter. Inevitable starvation. What could you do to survive? Victoria Larson and her husband, Chad, are sitting on their rooftop, waiting for the end. For three days, they've watched their coastal Louisiana town turn into a lake, battered by an unprecedented series of hurricanes. With the levees obliterated, the waters rise higher and higher—the next storm is sure to swallow their house whole. Just when all hope seems lost, a rescue boat emerges through the driving rain; a woman named Windy plucks them from their roof and motors them to a waterproof bunker—to safety. There, with a ragtag group of other evacuees, Victoria and Chad bed down and prepare to wait out the storms. But it isn't long before Victoria notices a few things seem...off. The concrete bunker has a door that locks from the outside. Many of the boxes of food don't contain food at all. The bottles of water smell like rubbing alcohol. And everyone in the group has a secret; even Victoria's own estranged husband seems to have known their captor prior to making the trek to the shelter. And some of her fellow evacuees are far too intent on defending the woman who locked them in this dungeon. Are they really storm victims like Victoria? Or are they accomplices in a sick game? One thing is certain: none of them will survive if they can't find something to eat. And if the stories the others tell about Windy are any indication, Victoria suspects their captor's plans are far more evil than simply watching them die of malnourishment. The blade Windy gave her is proof enough of that. And it won't be long until starvation devours the last of Victoria's sanity. "Intense. Feral. When she meets Earl she soon discovers that the world she wants to learn about is him. Their love is quickly deep, and coming with it are heartbreaking complications that make its growth, its textured world, appear impossible"--
