King Lear May 14 2021 King Lear is a tragedy by Shakespeare, written about 1605 or 1606. Shakespeare based it on the legendary King Leir of the Britons, whose story is outlined in Geoffrey Monmouth's pseudohistorical History of the Kings of Britain (written in about 1136). The play tells the tale of the aged King Lear who is passing on the control of his kingdom to his three daughters, each asks each of them to express their love for him, and the first two, Goneril and Regan do so eagerly saying they love him above all things. But his youngest daughter, Cordelia, is compelled to be honest and says that she must reserve some love for her future husband. Lear, enraged, cuts her off from any inheritance. The secondary plot deals with the machinations of Edmund, the bastard son of the Earl of Gloucester, who manages to convince his father that his legitimate son Edgar is plotting against him. After Lear steps down from power, he finds that his elder daughters have no regard or love for him, and treat him and his followers as a nuisance. They allow the raging Lear to wander out into a storm, hoping to be rid of him, and conspire with Edmund to overthrow the Earl of Gloucester. The play is a moving study of the perils of old age and the true meaning of filial love. It ends tragically with the deaths of both Cordelia and Lear—so tragically, in fact, that performances during the Restoration period sometimes substituted a happy ending. In modern times, though, King Lear is performed as written and generally regarded as one of Shakespeare's best plays. This Standard Ebooks edition is based on William George Clark and William Aldis Wright's 1887 Victorian edition, which is taken from the Globe edition. This book is part of the Standard Ebooks project which produces free public domain ebooks.

Dalla carta di rischio archeologico di Cesena alla tutela preventiva in Europa. Atti del Convegno (Cesena, 5-6 marzo 1999) 25 2019 Incontro di studi internazionale organizzato in occasione della presentazione della Carta di rischio archeologico di Cesena, promossa dall'Amministrazione Comunale e messa a punto da un'équipe di ricercatori guidati dal prof. Sauro Gelichi, All'incontro hanno partecipato ricercatori e studiosi italiani e stranieri, confrontando esperienze diverse, sia sul piano dell'elaborazione teorica sia su quello delle pratiche di tutela, esperienze diverse a seconda dei paesi e delle storie delle archeologie nazionali. Nel complesso non emergono situazioni privilegiate nei territori dove si è raggiunto un buon equilibrio tra sviluppo urbanistico del territorio e salvaguardia intelligente del patrimonio archeologico; e lo scontro non è solo tra pubblico e privato, ma spesso le tensioni non marginali sono presenti a vari livelli nella stessa sfera del pubblico. Piuttosto si può notare, in taluni paesi, un più elevato ed avanzato tasso di elaborazione teorica. Atti del Convegno tenutosi a Cesena, il 5-6 marzo 1999, organizzato dal Comune di Cesena (Assessorato all'Urbanistica) e dall'Università Ca' Foscari di Venezia (Dipartimento di Scienze dell'Antichità e del Vicino Oriente).
