Bullying in Schools Mar 17 2021 Bullying is now widely recognised as a serious problem that affects many children in schools. It can take many forms, including direct verbal and physical harassment and indirect forms such as delimitation.

exclusion and the targeting of individuals using cyber technology. Continual and severe bullying can cause both short and long term damage, making it difficult for victims to form intimate relationships with others and for habitual bullies to avoid following a delinquent lifestyle and becoming perpetrators of domestic violence. Even though this type of bullying affects many of our school children, Ken Rigby believes there are grounds for optimism. This passionate and motivating book shows that there are ways of reducing the likelihood of bullying occurring in a school and effective ways of tackling it when it does occur. Using up-to-date studies, Bullying in Schools helps us to understand the nature of bullying and why it occurs in schools. Importantly, it examines and evaluates what schools can do to promote more positive peer relationships within the school community and take effective and sustainable action to deal with problems that may arise. Teachers, parents, school leaders, policy makers, and health professionals will find it invaluable and empowering.

Towards Service Robots for Everyday Environments Sep 22 2021 People have dreamed of machines, which would free them from unpleasant, dull, dirty and dangerous tasks and work for them as servants, for centuries if not millennia. Science seems to finally let these dreams come true. But where are all these robots that eventually serve us all day long? A few service robots have entered the market: domestic and professional cleaning robots, lawnmowers, milking robots, and entertainment robots. Some of these robots look more like toys or gadgets rather than real robots. But where is the line? It is a question, which is asked not only by customers, but also by service providers, care organizations, politicians, and funding agencies. The answer is not very satisfying. Today's service robots have their problems operating in ever environments. This is by far more challenging than operating an industrial robot behind a fence. There is a complete list of technical and scientific problems, which still need to be solved. To advance the state of the art in service robotics towards robots, which are capable of operating in an everyday environment, was the major objective of the DESIRE (Deutsche Service Robotik Initiative – Germany Service Robotics Initiative) funded by the German Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF) under grant no. 01IME01A. This book offers a sample of the results achieved in DESIRE.

Chapter 5 outlines a model that the task force recommends to replace the current legislation. Subsequent chapters address issues which arise in connection with this proposed model including the scope of application, the elements of a pay equity plan, employee participation, predominance of collective agreements in job classes, evaluating gender-predominant job classes, estimating & correcting wage gaps, allowable exemptions, maintenance of pay equity, enforcement, timelines & transition to new legislation, pay equity and collective bargaining, and the role of oversight agencies. Drumsense Sep 30 2019 The idea of Drumsense is to provide a support system to bring together like minded teachers from all over the United Kingdom, and training them to use the same programme. This programme will determine a standard for teaching, and a diploma will be created to recognise this standard. The teachers are required to pass the Drumsense standard in order to achieve this diploma. Its approach to beginners. The programme is based on the Drumsense books, which take a complete novice through the basics of drumkit playing, like a foundation course. It is this programme that sets the contemporary standard for drumkit teaching which will be used by modern teachers across the country. It is also a programme to be aimed at private and peripatetic (schools) teachers. If a Drumkit student is having lessons at school using the Drumsense books, but decides to switch to private lessons, he or she simply looks for a teacher using the Drumsense programme, and continues from where they left off with the new teacher. Or, if a student is having private lessons in Southampton, and decides to move home to Glasgow, lessons can continue with a Drumsense teacher in that area. A teacher trained in the Drumsense programme could 'fill in' without any problem. Teachers could even train their deputies to take over in emergencies.
