Entangled in Scarlet Jun 16 2021 They vowed to own me-body, heart, and soul. I never thought I'd let them. The only thing more terrifying than being taken captive by four vampires is falling for each of them. Despite their rocky start, Calla can't imagine her life without the immortals she's bound to. And when they're attacked by vampire hunters, they have no choice but to run. While Calla struggles with another life-altering ambush, Kade faces his own in the form of his dead sister. They say the bonds of family are the strongest, but this reunion isn't a happy one. As tensions rise between the vampires and hunters, extreme measures are taken by the oldest vampires in history to ensure the survival of their race. There isn't a moment to breathe before Calla is once again forced to acknowledge the deal her ancestors made for her life. Until she discovers the consequences of the blood oath may not be hers to face... Entangled in Scarlet is the third installment in the addicting, sexy-as-sin Blood Oath series!

As Soft As Cotton Jun 04 2020 "...traces the lives of three southern African-American women across an expanse of time and emotion." Back cover.

Finding the Tree of Life Mar 14 2021 A children's book about the most important choice we will ever make. After one bad choice in the garden of Eden, it seemed the wonderful and beautiful Tree of Life was lost forever. Could a way back to this tree ever be found? In this story of redemption, told through nature, the trees sing the true story of the gospel in a way children and teenagers will understand.

Tempted by Fire Aug 31 2022 We'll burn this city to the ground to find her. Taken by one enemy and held captive by another, Calla is forced deeper into the supernatural world of power games and deceit, used in a vicious attempt to gain leverage over the vampires she's bound to. But she isn't about to be a pawn-not again. Haunted by his dark and bloody past, Gabriel may have no choice but to reunite with the woman from his nightmares to get Calla back, while Atlas, Kade, and Lex are left to deal with the vampire hunters, an age-old threat that has made a deadly, modern-day comeback. When Calla finally gets the answers she's been searching for and discovers there are more dangerous things than the men she wants to hate but her body craves, she must face the reality that letting herself care about them only gives her more to lose. And with enemies closing in on all sides, she could lose everything. Tempted by Fire is the second installment in the steamy, unputdownable Blood Oath series!

Capital Culture Jan 24 2022 American art museums flourished in the late twentieth century, and the impresario leading much of this growth was J. Carter Brown, director of the National Gallery of Art in Washington, DC, from 1969 to 1992. Along with S. Dillon Ripley, who served as Smithsonian secretary for much of this time, Brown reinvented the museum experience in ways that had important consequences for the cultural life of Washington and its visitors as well as for American museums in general. In Capital Culture, distinguished historian Neil Harris provides a wide-ranging look at Brown's achievement and the growth of museum culture during this crucial period. Harris combines his in-depth knowledge of American history and culture with extensive archival research, and he has interviewed dozens of key players to reveal how Brown's showmanship transformed the National Gallery. At the time of the Cold War, Washington itself was growing into a global destination, with Brown as its devoted booster. Harris describes Brown's major role in the birth of blockbuster exhibitions, such as the King Tut show of the late 1970s and the National Gallery's immensely successful Treasure Houses of Britain, which helped inspire similarly popular exhibitions around the country. He recounts Brown's role in creating the award-winning East Building by architect I. M. Pei and the subsequent renovation of the West building. Harris also explores the politics of exhibition planning, describing Brown's courtship of corporate leaders, politicians, and international dignitaries. In this monumental book Harris brings to life this dynamic era and exposes the creation of Brown's impressive but costly legacy, one that changed the face of American museums forever.

Renew Marxist Art History Dec 31 2019 From the early decades of the 20th century until the 1980s, Marxist art history was at the forefront of radical approaches to the discipline. Some of the most influential names in the field were active proponents of Marxist thought: Frederick Antal, Max Raphael, Arnold Hauser, Meyer Schapiro, T. J. Clark, to name just a few. But in the last two decades of the century and into the next, Marxist art historians found themselves marginalized from the vanguard by the rise of postmodernism and identity politics, which began to dominate the subject. This came at a time when Marxism in general was itself increasingly perceived as outdated after the collapse of communism. But in the wake of the recent global crisis there has been a resurgence in interest in Marx, especially among younger generations. Similarly, many progressive art historians are once again recognizing the relevance of his ideas to their own practice. This collection of essays a festschrift in honour of leading Marxist art historian Andrew Hemingway brings together thirty academics who are reshaping art history along Marxist lines. Coming from the the United States, Britain, Europe and Asia, they apply Marx's theories to a wide range of arthistorical subjects. American art of the mid-nineteenth century; the rise of modernism in Weimar Germany; Mexican muralism; Situationism in 1960s Paris; and photography and contemporary art these are just some of the areas considered through the lens of Marxism as it is understood today. And in the spirit of Marxism's long tradition of self-critique, the contributors also examine the shifting agendas and limitations of Marxist art history itself, acutely aware of the specific historical and political circumstances in which it is produced. As such, this book not only provides the very latest in Marxist art-historical writing, it also acts an essential introduction to one of the most vibrant and relevant forms of art history today one that looks to the past but is also marked by an urgent sense of the present.

Keys to Success Jun 24 2019 Designed for courses in Freshman Orientation, Student Success, College Preparation. Cry, Baby Cry Aug 26 2019 In August 2015, the morning after a day of shopping and fun with her best friend Ge, Brittany Carter learns Ge has died in a car accident. Her world is turned upside down as she struggles to move on without Ge. In our culture, we most times struggle with handling loss or helping those who are grieving. With the help of God, Brittany learns from the dark time in her life and grows stronger. She works to use this tragedy to help others deal with the death of a loved one. Throughout the book she teaches that it is okay to grieve, to honor the experience, and gradually adjust to the sudden change. With Cry Baby Cry, Brittany shares her personal experience with navigating life, love and loss and the lessons she learned from the pain. The key is not to try to escape pain, but to learn to live inside of it. Brittany shares her journey with leaving behind life as she knows it and embracing the new normal. Through bearing her soul and sharing scripture, she offers a unique guide through an experience we all will face at some point. Brittany lets people know they are not alone with their grief and pain. Others have and are experiencing the same pain. Through acknowledging her pain, and accepting it to be a natural step in the greater journey of life and love, she will help people come out on the other side stronger and with more peace.

Korea, Old and New Mar 02 2020 This is the most reliable and popular history of Korea available in English. The tumultuous developments of the modern era receive the greatest coverage, but the book's balanced treatment of traditional Korea emphasizes cultural events as integrally related to the political, social, and economic evolution of this ancient nation.

Eye of the Hurricane Aug 07 2020 A spiritual as well as a factual autobiography, this is a self-portrait of Rubin Hurricane Carter, a 20th-century icon and controversial victim of the U.S. justice system turned spokesperson for the wrongfully convicted. Exploring Carter's personal philosophy--born of the unimaginable duress of wrongful imprisonment and conceived through his defiance of the brutal institution of prison and a decade of solitary confinement--this work offers hope for those who have none and serves as a call to action for those who abhor injustice. Exposing the inherent flaws in the legal and penal systems, this autobiography also serves as a prison survival manual--be it a brick-and-mortar cell or the metaphorical prison of childhood abuse, racism, and despair.

Change of Hart Dec 23 2021 My name is Jason Hart. As the best defensive lineman in the country, I eat, sleep and breathe football. And I like it that way. I've only got a few more years before I'll have to retire, so expending energy on anything other than football seems like a waste of time. That is, until I have a random meeting with a little boy that just lost his father. We have more in common than you might think and it creates an unlikely bond. As our friendship grows, so do my feelings for his mother. I know Addison, as a recent widow, isn't ready to date again. But I want to get to know her better, in spite of all her rejections. Is it possible that I, a self-proclaimed bachelor, could be having a Change of Hart? "Change of Hart is an impressive debut for M.E. Carter. Bound in Crimson Nov 02 2022 I should hate them, yet there's no denying my body reacts to their every touch. When my ancestors lost everything in a business deal gone wrong, they were forced to make a sacrifice—a blood oath, promising the firstborn daughter of their bloodline to a league of vampires. And now they've come to collect. Atlas. Kade. Gabriel. Lex. All seductively sexy and unimaginably dangerous. Torn from everything I've ever known, they take me captive in their Washington, D.C. mansion. Each is determined to own me—body, heart, and soul. I'd be lying if I said the thought of that didn't make my skin tingle in anticipation. Still, the alluring immortals are in for a surprise, because ancient debt aside, I'm not going down without a fight. Bound in Crimson is the first installment in a sinfully sexy reverse harem paranormal romance series that is sure to leave readers gasping for more!

Each One a Minister Apr 02 2020 Each One a Minister, a revised and enlarged edition of Carter's previous book by the same title, begins with a 6-session study of Ephesians. Carter engages the reader in discovering the meaning of church, ministry, and gifts from the early church up to the present. As a follow-up to the Bible study, readers and study groups look at ways in which God's gifts are practical as well as spiritual. Four ministry categories, closely connected to the congregational primary task (receive, relate, equip, send), are identified. Scripture readings, activities, and ways to implement specific ministries are suggested. Designed to encourage individuals to discover God's call to ministry in their own lives, Each One a Minister leads toward practical ways of using gifts in ministries in our congregations and in our communities. An ideal resource for clergy, lay leaders, study groups, and others seeking to identify and use their gifts in meaningful ways. Discover Your Spiritual Gifts Leader's Guide is also available.
