HEAT! A Bank Health Assessment Tool Dec 04 2020 Developments during the global financial crisis have highlighted the importance of differentiating across financ systems and institutions. Assessments of financial stability have increasingly considered the characteristics of individual banks within a financial system, as well with significant international reach, to identify vulnerabilities and inform policy decisions. This paper proposes a simple measure of bank soundness, the Bank Hea Index (BHI), to facilitate preliminary analyses of individual financial institutions relative to their peers. The evidence suggests that the BHI is useful for a first-pas identification of bank soundness conditions. Automated spreadsheet templates of the bank Health Assessment Tool (HEAT!) are provided for users with access t BankScope, Bloomberg and/or SNL database(s).

Model Tests and Numerical Simulations of Liquefaction and Lateral Spreading Nov 22 2019 This open access book presents work collected through the Liquefaction Experiments and Analysis Projects (LEAP) in 2017. It addresses the repeatability, variability, and sensitivity of lateral spreading observed in twenty-four centri model tests on mildly sloping liquefiable sand. The centrifuge tests were conducted at nine different centrifuge facilities around the world. For the first time, number of experiments were conducted to enable assessment of variability of centrifuge test results. The experimental data provided a unique basis for asse capabilities of twelve different simulation platforms for numerical simulation of soil liquefaction. The results of the experiments and the numerical simulations presented and discussed in papers submitted by the project participants. The work presented in this book was followed by LEAP-Asia that included assessment generalized scaling law and culminated in a workshop in Osaka, Japan in March 2019. LEAP-2020, ongoing at the time of printing, is addressing the validation structure interaction analyses of retaining walls involving a liquefiable soil. A workshop is planned at RPI, USA in 2020. .
