Your Fussy Baby Dec 24 2019 If your new baby cries inconsolably for many hours a day, take heart. The soothing help you need is here. Renowned pediatrician Dr. Marc Weissbluth knows firsthand how stressful life can be for a sensitive, fussy newborn—not to mention the child's frantic, exhausted parents. Last Action Zero Dec 04 2020 Last Action Zero is a unique and comedic take on growing up during the New Labour government. From tuition fees protests to earning worthless degrees to joblessness, it chronicles a young man's disillusionment and his eventual coming of age. If you've wasted months of your life in video games, done a catalogue of crap jobs and messed it up with 'the one', Last Action Zero will show you how it's really done. Spanning a decade of bumbling failure, you'll journey from drug-fuelled raves to retail hell to the degenerate sands of Pattaya. Natasha. Her hair pulled back in a ponytail, head tilted at a slight downward angle, her face an orchid in full bloom. Her eyes glitter with life, her coffee-coloured skin is luminous, and she is giving me a carefree smile. I can't take my eyes off her. She is the sun that consumes my heart with fire. Protagonist Christopher Lawrence is a hapless student whose only concern is winning the heart of the beautiful Natasha Saunders — a girl barely aware of his existence. He follows her to clubs in the vain hope that the concoction of alcohol and pills will somehow bring them together, but he only ever sees her get off with other guys. Despite all the evidence that she's not interested in him, Chris never gives up hope. Blinded by desire and a total lack of life orientation, his adventures see him endure humiliation, parental disgrace and supreme ennu, with only a roster of degenerate friends for company. Last Action Zero is a coming-of-age tale showing just how much love, and the truth, hurts. It will appeal mainly to readers in their twenties and thirties, and will resonate with anyone who's suffered from the painful affliction of unrequited love.

Baby Love Jun 29 2020 BATH TIME: - Nonslip bath mat is ESSENTIAL for safety - Bath thermometer. Always test the bath water temperature before placing your baby in the bath. Tip Get a good bath chair. Mothercare do a fantastic ergonomic chair where there is a piece of plastic between the baby's legs preventing your baby from sliding off. Having both of your hands free will help you to bath your baby. - Sponges for bath Tip I like to use two different sponges, one for baby's body and one for baby's privates. If you are going to use two different sponges, it is important to get two very different looking sponges so not to confuse. Also replace the sponges every month or so. - Face washers. Not just for cleaning faces, they are also great to place over the baby's stomach to prevent them getting cold while bathing - Oilatum. Oilatum comes as oil for the bath and a cream for after. Oilatum is great for dry skin. Tip I put a few drops of Oilatum in the bath every day to prevent dry skin. - Bath toys. There are foam alphabet pieces that stick to the side of the bath. You can make words for your baby. Rubber ducks and bubbles are always winners. Tip Be sure to clean and replace bath toys often as dirty water can get stuck inside and then contaminate clean bath water. - Disposable bed/change mats for on top of the towel when your baby is minus their nappy. It is much easier to clean up if there is an accident - Hooded towel. Babies can be wrapped up snug as a bug.

Cultures of Commodity Branding Nov 15 2021 Commodity branding did not emerge with contemporary global capitalism. In fact, the authors of this volume show that the cultural history of branding stretches back to the beginnings of urban life in the ancient Near East and Egypt, and can be found in various permutations in places as diverse as the Bronze Age Mediterranean and Early Modern Europe. What the contributions in this volume also vividly document, both in past social contexts and recent ones as diverse as the kingdoms of Cameroon, Socialist Hungary or online eBay auctions, is the need to understand branded commodities as part of a broader continuum with techniques of gift-giving, ritual, and sacrifice. Bringing together the work of cultural anthropologists and archaeologists, this volume obliges specialists in marketing and economics to reassess the relationship between branding and capitalism, as well as adding an important new concept to the work of economic anthropologists and archaeologists.
